Fayette apparently lived in Cramahe Township, Northumberland County, following his first marriage, but later moved to the Village of Warkworth, where he was a tailor. Following his second marriage he moved to California for a short time but about 1913 returned to Ontario to the area of Matheson. Twice the family was burned out, in the severe forest fires of 1913 and 1916. Later Fayette moved to Montreal for about five years and then to Aylmer, Ontario. After Fayette's death, Sarah married Bradley Simpson of Havelock, Ontario. Fayette and Sarah are buried in Aylmer Cemetery in Aylmer.
